FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1913

Cincinnati people just now are firm of the belief that it is healthy to walk. The street car men are on a strike.

Time to be looking around for men to fill municipal and township offices. The primaries will be held in September.

Gov. Johnson of California has advised Secretary Bryan that he will sign the land bill which the Japs resist, feeling certain that the proposed law breaks no treaty.

The G. O. P. and Bull Moose managers have not yet been able to get together on lines suggested by Ohio leaders. One faction is afraid the other will get a little the best of it no matter what kind of an agreement is reached.

WHITACRE WANTS FACTS

Washington, May 12—Representative J. J. Whitacre of Canton, whose interest in behalf of the pottery interests of East Liverpool brought about the celebrated order of Secretary of Commerce Redfield directing accountants of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce to examine not only the books of the pottery manufacturers, but of other manufacturers who claim irreparable injury will result to their business from the tariff rates in the Underwood bill, today made public a statement explaining the innovation and calling upon manufacturers to welcome the government agents in their factories. The statement read:

"The determination of President Wilson and Secretary Redfield to investigate the books of protected industries threatening wage reductions is sound and sensible. I, for one, am willing to vote for an appropriation of any size required to set the machinery going in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce for this purpose.

"If rates in the Underwood bill are too low to guarantee fair competition we ought to know it. Manufacturers who believe they have been unfairly dealt with in the proposed tariff schedules ought to welcome the experts.

"Open books will soon disclose the facts. Briefs by interested parties are experts and no longer have weight with congressmen. Facts will thwart any republican effort to discredit this tariff bill, and at the same time will substantiate any grievances that are valid.

"At my request the potters of the United States came forward and agreed to open their books before the present schedules were framed. Their representatives now assert that a 25.40 per cent rate, as proposed in the Underwood bill, will be destructive and force a reduction of workmen's wages.

"I don't know whether this is true or not, but the way to find out is to accept their invitation for an examination of their books. Business men should endorse this plan. It is a step forward in tariff legislation. It means that we are to have definite, indisputable data, and will no longer grope in the dark."

NEW AUTOMOBILE LAWS

(Cleveland Leader.) Secretary Fred H. Caley of the Cleveland Automobile club leaned back in his chair with an I-should-worry expression when he reviewed the work of the organization during the late session of Ohio legislature. Some big things for automobile owners in general have been accomplished. Interest has largely been absorbed with the new auto tax bill and other important measures were lost sight of by many. The auto road-hog bill, a bill to stop the tampering with cars by mischievous boys or thieves; an anti-joy-riding bill and chauffeur's examination bill were passed and the rates in the new tax bill were materially cut down.

In the tax bill based on horsepower the Cleveland and other clubs of the state brought about a change on all above 20 horsepower cars. Twenty horsepower cars will be taxed for $5 a year; from 20 to 30 horsepower was cut from $10 to $8; 30 to 40 horsepower, cut from $15 to $9; 40 to 50 horsepower cut from $20 to $12; 50 to 60 horsepower cut from $25 to $15.

The "road hog" bill requires the driver of any vehicle upon being signaled by a vehicle in the rear going in the same direction to turn to the right and give two-thirds of the roadway to the passing vehicle.

The honking of horns when a car is standing at the curb or meddling with a car in any way becomes a misdemeanor under another bill passed. This law gives the car owner better protection than he ever had by imposing a fine upon anyone found guilty of interfering with a car in any way. Another law directed against joy-riding and thieves makes a person liable to three years' imprisonment for taking a car without permission of the owner.

Under the chauffeur's examination law no person can secure a license to drive without first passing an examination, and no license will be issued to a person under sixteen years of age. Another bill provides for the working of 1,600 idle penitentiary convicts upon the highways.
